Members,
I am forwarding the below.
Please note this message gives an advance notice for restrictions when the LMR reaches above 14' on the Carrollton Gauge.
Valero will provide an official announcement when the restriction is applicable.
The Carrollton Gauge as of 1000 hours today was 11.01 feet. The latest forecast show the LMR reaching 14' one week from today on Monday, March 5, 2018.
LaMA will continue to provide updates.
RWB

Good day all,
Valero St Charles will require one stand by tug for the high water period this will cover all ships and ATB's and will be for when the Mississippi River reaches +14 Carrollton gage.
To ensure this is completed in the most straight forward way, an announcement will come from Valero St Charles (me) when this is to commence as well as when it will cease .
It may not be at exactly +14 Carrollton or will it be removed at precisely +14 on the fall.
Please feel free to contact me if there are any questions.
Regards,
